DIXIE SMELTER ABOUT FINISHED

Will Begin Making Copper Bullion Insid , Thirt, D /s.

RHEMINI AT FARMINGTON

JOHN BOGAN TO WORK IT UN-DER NEW LEASE.

"Within thirty days we shall have the new smelter in commission." Such was the information given by Grant Snyder, manager of the Utah & Eastern company's Dixie copper bonanza, on his arrival from the south yesterday morning. He supplemented statement by saying that had it been possible to get material delivered on time the plant would be turning out copper bullion now, but, like everybody else, he had been tied hand and foot else, he had been tied hand and foot by the transportation companies.

Manager Snyder said the new plant would handle about fifty tons of ore per day, a tonnage that, considering the high-grade character of the Dixie ore, will make as much bullion as several times that much of the ores from Bingham. The mine, he says, is now in a good state of development and the time is now being devoted to sending the shaft down deeper.

At Modena, the company's railroad shipping and receiving point, a number of large bins are being constructed to hold the company's supply of coke ber of large bins are being constructed to hold the company's supply of coke and by the time they are completed he expects the force now employed at the smelter will be ready to turn the plant over. The annual meeting of the company will occur on the fourth day of next month, when the plan of campaign for the next year will most likely be fully determined upon.

STOCK EXCHANGE RUMPUS.

Chairman Pollock of Special Committee, Talks.

mittee, Talks.

Since before the recent stock exchange election, there has been an unusual amount of talk concerning the provisions of the new code of rules and laws that a special committee was instructed to prepare by the old board of governors of that institution. The contents of the proposed new code, or rather a lack of knowledge of the contents, has come near splitting that organization into factions. Yesterday a story was printed to the effect that the old board of governors had refused to turn over the typewritten copy of the document to the new board.

The statement, of course, was untrue, as the old governing board was not concerned. Chairman Pollock of the special committee declares that he alone was responsible for the rules not being turned over, and in order that the membership of the exchange and everybody else interested in the welfare of the institution should know the truth concerning the matter, he yesterday asked space to make the following explanation:

"The proposed new rules were the real bone of contention between the two factions of the exchange at the last annual election. The old board, having factions of the exchange at the last annual election. The old board, having appointed the committee that wrote the annual election. The old boatd, naving appointed the committee that wrote the rules, was naturally in favor of their adoption, and at the annual meeting requested the favor of a two weeks' adjournment of the meeting for the purpose of properly presenting them. This request was denied by the majority of the members and a new board of governors was elected. The only reasonable conclusion to be drawn is that the majority of the members were opposed to the rules, and that the present board is representative of the sentiments of the voting control of the exchange.

"The rules should be passed unanimously, and to prove effective should be free from mutilation. In any event, the feeling engendered at present is such that the rules, if presented to the members of the exchange at this time, members of the exchange at this time, would unquestionably be defeated. "I, along with the more conservative members earnestly desire the passage of the rules, which will assuredly give the institution a stability and character it does not at present possess. Con fidence will ultimately rule, and the benefits derived will be shared by in-vestors, mining and stock operators, bankers and brokers alike.

"If, at a later date, a feeling of unanimity should again prevail and the present board of governors desires and requests it, I will take pleasure in presenting the rules for consideration. This is certainly a conservative view to take of the matter and a statement of the facts as I understand them. I have been wholly free from influence in arriving at the decision stated.

"As the writer of the rules, I am de-

John Bogan Takes Another Chance at Farmington Property.

John Bogan, the oid-time Park City operator, who recently cleaned up a snug sum of money from the sale of his interests in the Bogan Mining company, since made a part of the Silver King Consolidated, has determined to invade the Farmington district again. For a year or more he operated the Rhemini property, the workings of which are so plainly seen from the railroad platforms at Lagoon, but for the lack of money he was compelled to abandon his lease and bond and turn the ground over to the original owners.

He was unable to complete it, however, and finally had to give up entirely.
